THE TONGUE OF A TONGUE.

A killing occurred on Dec. 15, near McGowan, a station on the O. V. Railroad, just in the edge of Caldwell county. The locality is a remote and inaccessible one and the news of the killing did not reach the outside world for several days.

It was received Sunday by the Ke-ronian's efficient correspondent in the State's Military district of this county.

Johnnie Whitfield shot and killed

John Chambliss who was killed by E.

C. Hopper in 1933. Chambliss was gunning for Hopper, but the latter was as active as an old and ran under the gun, knocked it out of Chambliss' hands and securing the weapon killed the bully with his own gun. Hopper was acquitted at his examining trial.

Johnnie Chambliss married John Whitfield several years ago and also has about 30 years old. After living with Whitfield some years, but Adams "took up" with her and the two drove Whitfield off and Adams has lived with the woman. On the day of the murder Adams shipped one of his children by Whitfield, which so angered her that she picked up a revolver and shot him without a word.

He was instantly killed by a bullet in his brain. At last accounts no arrests had been made.

The woman is homely and freckled, tough in looks as well as in character.

There would have been but little respect of the whole set had she been deceased.
